1. Comment. Probably, troop trains.
2. Comment. Shipments of construction material for the Twenty Fourth Air Army for the enlargement of Schorfheide Airfield.
3. Comment. Ruhland chiefly supplies the air force fuel depot in Velten. Compared with July which showed an especially high volume of outgoing shipments, the August delivery decreased by about 50 tankcars and thus, reached again the usual monthly average.
4. Comment. Of the 21 railroad stations mentioned, 12 were also listed during the preceding month. A comparison with the July shipments showed that, in August, an increased number of shipments (construction material) were loaded in Coschen, while the number of shipments loaded in Ruhland decreased. If probable troop trains and shipments of construction material to Vogelsang, i.e. Schorfheide airfield are omitted, there remain 415 carloads of military supply traffic in the Cottbus railroad district. The volume is thus about 17 percent below the monthly average of 486 carloads determined for the first half year of 1953.
5. Comment. Other information available indicated that trains went to Justerbog for firing practice with live ammunition from Peitz and Cottbus on 8 August. It has so far not been reported that a fourth train was dispatched from Peitz.
6. Comment. during the night of 2 August, three trains from Koenigsbrueck and Schwepnitz went to Groeditz and one to Grima. The present report, however, which is given more credence, states that 5 shipments were dispatched to the Groeditz-Wulknitz area. Although the troops could not definitely be identified, it is assumed that they belonged to elements of the 11th Gds Tank Div and/or 8th Gds Mecz Div which transferred to the Zeithain area for joint practices with units of the 9th Tank Div. According to observations made during the loading on 4 August, medium AAA units, presumably of the 6th Gds AAA Div (US) went to Chennitz and Schwarzenberg. (?) went to Crawinkel on 5 August. A second train could not yet be determined. Observations during the loading indicated that light AAA transferred from Koenigsbrueck to Mechterstaedt and artillery units to Altengrabow. The train to Grima on 16 August and that to Rueckmarsdorf on 28 August were reported for the first time.

[redacted] Comment. Units of the 7th Gds Mecz Div were shipped to Berlin-Schoenweide on train [redacted] on 8 August and [redacted] on 21 August.

[redacted] Comment. The shipments were presumably connected with the transfer of the Soviet training regiment for the KVP from Welzow to Pustnitz.
